NEW YORK, June 21.—By the steamer Arizona we have the following: Thirty Californians are about to leave Panama for Cocos Island in search of treasure said to be deposited there according to documents in their possession.

An arrival from Chiriqui reports the Presidential election progressing in that State without disturbance.

Two severe shocks of earthquake were felt at the town of David on the 24th ult.

A Panama letter of the 13th states that an earthquake visited Chiriqui on the 1st.

Rice, American Consul at Aspinwall had departed for home without officially apprising the President of Panama of the fact, and the Vice Consul whom he left in charge is consequently not recognized as ad interim Consul by State authorities, although instructions had been received from Bogota requiring an acknowledgement in such cases some time before.

NEW YORK, June 21.—A Port au Prince correspondent of June 8th, states that the revolutionists have completely surrounded the city, but do not appear to be disposed to make a general attack. Salnave's forts continued the bombardment and he seems more than ever determined to resist to the last.

Letters from Venezuela state that Gen. Falcon and family are safe at Curacoa and that General Monagas was advancing on Caracas.

From St. Thomas there are reports that in consequence of the recent negro riot on the island of St. John, the Spanish authorities had instituted proceedings to secure the punishment of offenders and to prevent any future disturbance.

The civil war in Hayti continues with unabated violence. The forces of Gen. Preuan had united with Gen. Nissage and with a large reinforcement from Cacos have commenced a siege of Fort Alexbie, the last stronghold of Salnave. Application had been made to Salnave to resign the dictatorship, which he had assumed, and retain the Presidency, but it was not entertained. The latest news from Port au Prince says Salnave fought a desperate battle with Cacos in which he was victorious.

There is news from St. Domingo that Nigra is acting in a most despotic manner. Arrests and expulsions were continued.

South America.

HAVANA, June 21.—Latest advices from Venezuela report the revolution gaining strength rapidly and extending throughout the country. Gen. The State of Bolivia has pronounced against Falcon and the administration had joined the revolutionists.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Rio Janeiro advices to May 26th, state that the Brazilian finance report shows the cost of the Paraguayan war to be one hundred and twenty-one millions, and the total debt of the Empire two hundred and forty-seven millions. The Minister of Finance declares another loan impracticable while the war lasts.

Miscellaneous.

A Denver telegram says, that in a fight at Apache Springs between forty-seven soldiers and a band of Navajoe Indians recently, six of the latter were killed and one soldier wounded. The Indians are quite troublesome above Fort Benton. The Sioux are committing depredations. They had driven off a considerable amount of stock at the mouth of Musselshell river. Several woodchoppers had been killed and a number of boats fired into.

President Heber C. Kimball, who ranked second only to Brigham Young, in the Mormon church, died at Salt Lake yesterday.

BY DALLES TELEGRAPH.

DALLES, June 23, 11 o'clock A. M.—The latest news from Montana reports Indian depredations in every quarter. Information from Fort Benton says the Blackfeet are bent upon an active campaign during the coming season. They have sent all their women and children far to the north and donned the war paint. Already the tracks of their moccasins are seen along the entire eastern border of our settlements. It is unsafe to go five miles out of the principal camps.

A band of thirty or forty Indians made a raid into Missouri Valley and drove off about two hundred head of stock. The band was followed by six men and an Indian boy. On coming up to the Indians, a skirmish ensued, which resulted in the retreat of the ranchmen. An Indian boy is missing; supposed to have been killed. Immediate preparations were made for organizing a large party for the purpose of punishing the red thieves and murderers.

Judge Shaffer has been nominated for Congress by the Democracy of Idaho Territory.

Commissions were received from Washington by last night's mail appointing H. A. Hogue, Superintendent, and D. M. French, Disbursing Agent, for the erection of the United States Branch Mint at this place.

Letters have been received in this city from reliable parties, stating that Libby Creek mines, 100 miles east from Lake Pen d'Oreille, are paying very well.

The Chase Movement.

THE CHANCES FOR THE NOMINATION OF THE CHIEF JUSTICE.

[From the New York Times, June 1.]

There is no longer any doubt that the Democratic party will be very strongly pressed in convention to make Judge Chase their candidate for the Presidency. The movement has the support of some of the strongest men in the party. It is said that Governor Seymour favors it, and that it will have the vigorous advocacy of the New York delegation to begin with.

We do not think it can succeed, because we do not believe that two-thirds of the delegates in convention can be brought to favor it. Aside from the hostility it will encounter on grounds of principle, the personal interests to be affected by it are too formidable to be overcome. The two-thirds rule, established for the slaughter of Mr. Van Buren at Baltimore in 1844 has become the settled law of Democratic National Conventions; and it will always be found effectual, not only in defeating any local favorite, but in preventing the adoption of any bold and striking change of party policy. Where one third of the convention can control its action, it is safe to say that its action will always be timid and commonplace. It was that which nominated Polk in 1844, and Pierce in 1852, and which defeated the party by splitting it in 1848 and 1860; and it will probably defeat the nomination of Pendleton, and prevent such a revolution in the party as the nomination of Chase would involve now.

It is understood that those who support Chase advocate also the adoption of his principles and policy. They will allow him substantially to make his platform. They hold that the war has disposed of all the questions that were ever at issue between him and them. Slavery, the grand source and origin of them all, has disappeared forever. They propose to regard as fixed and settled all the questions growing out of it and out of the war. They accept the reconstruction action of Congress—urge the return of the South to the Union upon that basis—and take the broad ground of universal manhood suffrage, without distinction of race or color, only leaving it to the action of the States themselves. It is impossible to imagine a greater revolution in a party than this. It may safely be assumed that nothing but the most desperate party necessity could bring any party to it, and it is scarcely possible that two thirds of the Democratic party should concur in taking so desperate a view of its fortunes.

[From the New York Sun, June 1.]

The nomination of Judge Chase as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency has passed the point of possibility, and already reached the point of probability. Two months ago it was canvassed by only a few bold spirits, who recognized the new era in politics, and did not wait for the permission of party chiefs before uttering their opinions as to what the crisis required. On the other hand, the drill sergeants of the old regime scouted the idea of placing in the battle's van a leader of original views and progressive tendencies, and insisted that the candidate should be selected from that class who have neither learned nor forgotten anything under the teachings of the great events of the last seven years. In the midst of this clashing of sentiment among the more impulsive and less thoughtful elements of the party, it was noticeable that the magnates who do much of its thinking, a great share of its management, and furnish nearly all the money for carrying on its campaigns, maintained a wary silence on the subject of a Presidential candidate. These cautious old schemers inculcated deliberation and deprecated premature committals, and while they spoke respectfully but evasively of Pendleton, Seymour, McClellan and Hancock, they manifest a mysterious reticence in regard to Chase.

This period of [illegible] has past. Eminent Democrats, after watching events and cogitating over the new situation many [illegible] now [illegible] to speak; and their language is of the [illegible] significant character. A large number of distinguished members of the party met last week at Albany to consult about a Presidential candidate. Newspaper correspondents inform us that the [illegible] for Judge Chase was the main topic of discussion, and that Mr. Seymour expressed himself decidedly in favor of the Chief Justice, a [illegible] which met with cordial approval. Such words, from such a source, uttered on the spot where, under the regency, so many Presidential candidates have been selected, weighs more than volumes from less conspicious and commanding quarters. The World has recently published a high-toned eulogium on the Chief Justice, recognizing his extraordinary strength as a candidate in the South, where its party, as it took pains to show, must obtain a share of the negro vote or make up its mind to be beaten in November. Captain Isaiah Rynders, the pilot-fish of the Democratic masses in the metropolis, always quick to catch the drift of the tide, in a speech on Friday last before the Young Men's Democratic Union Club in this city, warmly commended Judge Chase as a State Rights Democrat, sound on the currency issue, and the very man to be pitted against General Grant. The remarks of the redoubtable Captain were welcomed with vociferous applause.

[From the New York World, June 1.]

Since the acquittal of the President and the close of the impeachment trial, Chief Justice Chase's name has been extensively canvassed as the Democratic nominee for President. It apparently takes well, but whether this arises from the fact that it is believed that he will be an available candidate, or from the novelty which arises from the connection of Chase's name with the Democratic party, it is impossible at present to tell. That class of men who do not feel themselves bound to party, whether their sympathies have been heretofore with the Democratic or Republican organizations, are all advocating his nomination. It is thus apparent that he has considerable strength with the no-party men. The Democratic leaders are, as a general thing, very shy of committing themselves either for or against Chase. This may, perhaps, be owing to a desire to see how the suggestion takes with the mass of the voters of the party before they take sides. A large class of the young men of the party are unquestionably for Chase and the same may be said of a few of the leaders. The argument which the latter use as a justification of their course is, that with either Pendleton, Seymour, Hendricks, or McClellan as the candidate, there is no chance of securing a Senate to co-operate with them. While they consider success certain, let who will be nominated, they believe that with Chase as their candidate, they can be more certain of electing a majority in the House of Representatives and thus effectually put an end to the Jacobin rule. Still further, with Chase in the White House, the co-operation in the policy of his administration by the ablest of the Republican Senators is considered certain.

The dead lock which now exists between Congress and the President, is used as an argument by these men to show that, with a straight Democrat elected as President, the victory would be almost barren, while on the other hand, they claim that, with Chase as a candidate, they are almost morally certain of securing a Congress that will co-operate with the Executive, and thus accomplish more for Democracy than if a straight Democrat was elected President. One thing is certain, the Radicals have been engaged for several years in taking power away from the Chief Magistrate of the nation, and assuming to themselves the prerogatives which have always been exercised by the Executive. These encroachments have gone so far as to almost revolutionize the character of our government. The first point necessary to restore these duties and powers to their proper places, will be to secure the election of a Congress that will undo much that has been done in this way by the Radicals. Those advocating Chase's nomination claim that the placing of his name at the head of the Democratic ticket, will materially aid in securing a Democratic majority in the lower House, and a Senate that will co-operate with that body in the support of the administration. These facts in reference to Mr. Chase we give as a part of the gossip of the day.

Indian News.

The Idaho Statesman contains the follo[illegible]

Mr Loup, expressman from Umatilla by the stage of last Sunday, brings a very extraordinary report from the Indian country, but if true is the less gratifying than it is unlooked for. When Mr. Loup passed Uniontown, John Creighton had arrived from Camp Harney, and brought the report as follows: A party of citizens that were organized in the Willow Creek mines some weeks since, and another of citizens and soldiers that followed the band of Indians which attacked the stage near Sheep ranch were both scouring the country about the head of Shasta or [illegible] The whereabouts of each party was unknown to the other, though the result of their work was the same as if they had been acting in concert. It appears that each party of men marched up two separate Indian trails in two separate canyons, to a point where these two and a third canyon met, and simultaneously came upon an Indian camp there. The Indians saw escape hopeless and fighting useless, and held up their hands in token of [illegible] A parley ensued in which the Indians said they were tired of the war and didn't want to fight any more. The band proved to be led by [illegible] celebrated big-footed chief, whose tracks have been seen at different times in the different trails along the Owyhee and other places. What this Indian's name is we did not learn, but he is [illegible] being an extraordinary specimen of the Snake Indian. He is reported as being almost a giant in size, and there is no doubt his feet is not [illegible] inches long as has been stated. He [illegible] to be the chief of five separate bands of Indians, all of them engaged in robbery, murder and plunder. One band is now on the head waters of the Weizer, one band was captured with him, as well as the remnant of the band of which thirty-four were killed a few days ago, of which report has been published. Our Farms.

It is boasted that the fertility of our Oregon soil is inexhaustible; and so it is if any effort is made to recuperate it and keep it in good condition. No lands in any part of the world ever were richer than those in the valley of the upper Mississippi; yet we find the journals of that section complaining that the average yield of cereals there has fallen off greatly within the last few years. This result is attributed to the delusion of those who have thought the soil really inexhaustible, and who have for a long series of years continued to gather crops while doing nothing to restore the land. Those who act on a similar principle in Oregon or elsewhere will eventually meet with similar experience and results. True, we have a large amount of virgin land which has never yielded to the dominion of the plow, but we also have fields which have been planted for many consecutive years, and which, as a consequence, yield less than formerly. Taking the Willamette valley through, it may be doubted whether the average yield per acre is so great as it was some years ago. But there is no need for any decline. Lands like ours can easily be kept up so that they will continue to produce as much as was gathered from them in their virgin freshness. Certainly it will be much easier to do this than to go through a laborious process of recuperation after the lands have been once exhausted.

The growth of the population of our State, naturally [illegible] a fairly increase in the number of agriculturists, an increase which must be [illegible] henceforward than ever before. [illegible] it is important that these matters should receive the constant attention of those engaged in the cultivation of the soil. We should not repeat the errors of Ohio farmers, who, relying on the perpetual fertility of their lands, have in many places almost impoverished them, so that the yield of wheat in a great number of counties is no more than five or seven bushels per acre, making wheat growing so costly as to compel many to abandon it. It is certain that a large proportion of American farming is radically wrong. In several European countries, where the soil is naturally much less fertile than our own, production has steadily increased for several years past, and is still increasing. There is yet no land in Oregon which is "worn out," or anything near it; and even if the parts cultivated were becoming seriously worn, they are but a small proportion of the whole. Now [illegible] it is well to [illegible] that the richest lands may in [illegible] and [illegible] to [illegible] in a productive state at [illegible] and no get good crops, [illegible] "[illegible] as dyou," and get meagre [illegible]. When Oregon becomes crowded with a [illegible] population, as it soon will be, [illegible] all our lands into cultivation, it will [illegible] to pay some [illegible] to the [illegible] of the soil. [illegible] that the farmer can take as [illegible] it forever, without giving it something in [illegible].

The "Organ" makes a Sprightly Effort in Criticism.

The [illegible] of the "organ," in his [illegible], has a critical and scholarly "[illegible]." We quote its introductory sentence:

> "Here's richness," said Squeers, when he paused [illegible] the [illegible] paunch of his own offspring. "Here's richness," exclaimed we, when we read the editorial in yesterday's OREGONIAN, under the head of "Swallowing it Back." When an editor of a [illegible] makes a correction, he is spoken of as a "creature" who "swallows back" his own vomit. The expression, besides being ungrammatical, is most undignified.

We [illegible] how [illegible] the "organ" has suddenly become! Its editor, when hungering for [illegible] "undignified," should turn back over his own files and read the elegant language he attributed to Gov. Oglesby, of Illinois. As for the alleged [illegible] of the phrase "Swallows it back," no person except this critic will [illegible] to discover it. The "[illegible]" [illegible] gorge and then "swallowed it [illegible]," [illegible] "undignified" the [illegible] willing ungrammatical [illegible] mode of [illegible] it.

Now let the [illegible] be turned on this critical writer. The expression quoted from Squeers was uttered by that illustrious pedagogue on a very different occasion from the one alluded to. "Here's richness," said the founder of Dotheboys Hall, when he filled up the large cup containing a gill of milk with lukewarm water, and gave it to several of his "new [illegible]." But let us look [illegible] at this [illegible] effort by our literary dilettante.

In order to correct the expression, "Swallow it back," he quotes "Scripture." And he calumniates St. Peter and Solomon by making their "true proverb" read; "The hog that returns to his wallow or as the dog to his vomit." This is an improvement in the text which should not escape the attention of the new translators.

And finally, he attributes an editorial article which recently appeared in this paper, to Harper's Weekly. He "don't know positively, but it sounds very like." Now Harper's Weekly is not a very obscure paper; might it not be well for this critic to get it and see? He has a great deal of trouble about the authorship of the editorials published in the OREGONIAN. He may console himself with the reflection that no one will make any inquiries about the authorship of anything published, editorially, in the "organ"—unless some person happens along hunting for a prodigy of dullness and old fogyism to set up as a hero for a Democratic Dunciad.

Robt. E. Withers, a "Democratic" candidate for Congress in Virginia, was Colonel of the Eighteenth Virginia (rebel) Infantry in the war of the rebellion, and in 1865 was a candidate for Congress from the Lynchburg District. General Walker, the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, also served in the rebel army, and as Brigadier General commanded at one time the "Stonewall Brigade."

Hon. W. E. Stevenson is nominated by the Republicans of West Virginia for Governor, General I. H. Duval for Congress from the first district, and Hon. J. C. McGrew for the second. The convention was the largest ever held in the State. Ex-Governor Pierpont of Virginia was one of the secretaries.

Political Items.

The Ohio State Journal says that a Chase organ is soon to be established at Washington, under the direction of George Alfred Townsend.

The Dayton (O.) Ledger publishes ex-President Pierce's recent letter, with the remark that it "marvels that in enumerating possible Democratic candidates for the Presidency, he did not mention Salmon P. Chase, who is quite as much entitled to it as some of those he has suggested."

The "Pendleton escort" is to leave Cincinnati by special train, June 30, and the published programme says: "A commissary car, with sufficient provisions for the members while in transit, will be attached to the train." Glass and earthenware vessels have been provided for holding the "provisions."

The Alabama "Democratic" Convention, held June 4th, tendered "the thanks of the Southern people to Jeff. Davis for the unflinching courage and unsurpassed ability with which he acquitted himself of his official oath to defend the Confederate Constitution," and paying to him the respect of the Convention as "a patriot and incorruptible man." Perhaps similar resolutions may pass the Oregon Legislature this fall.

Hon. H. S. Bundy, in a card printed in the Jackson (O.) Standard, corrects the account given of his conversation with Chief Justice Chase. He says that the latter did not say anything in regard to a new party, or as to his seeking the nomination for the Presidency. What he did say was, that he was opposed to impeachment, and to the Congressional plan of reconstruction. Mr. Chase was outspoken in his opposition to the Republican policy.

The following are New York items of June 4th: The Tribune says of the Presidential election: "Upon the heavy electoral vote of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio depends the result of the contest. The Republican party must win, if it carries either. The Democratic party may win if it carries all." * * * The Empire Club has been reorganized. Isaiah Rynders is President. Captain Rynders has declared in favor of Chase for the Democratic nominee for President.

The Troy Press, a paper well informed as to the views of the Democratic leaders in New York, is out with a labored article urging the nomination of Chase. It says: "In our judgment there is but one man adapted to the emergency, and that man is Salmon P. Chase." "True," it adds, "he differed with the Democracy upon the question of emancipation, but that is a dead issue." The Press gravely asks, "Does any principle demand his rejection?" Of course not; "principle" has nothing to do with the case.

The Richmond Whig says that in five Congressional districts in that State, the negroes largely outnumbered the whites; and is very indignant that notwithstanding this numerical superiority, no negro has been nominated for Congress. The Democracy have fallen into such excessive love with the negro lately, that the Whig probably intends and expects that they will present colored candidates. It would no more surprise us for them to do this, than for them to take a "nigger" candidate for the Presidency, as Brick Pomeroy says they are going to do.

Fourth of July.

A writer in one of the "Democratic" papers of this State says:

> For the last six or eight years, throughout the State, money has been collected alike of Democrats and Republicans for the celebration of the 4th of July, and then some Black Republican stumper employed to make a rancorous partisan speech, under the name of "oration." I have no objection to their making as many such speeches as they like, but I do object to their obtaining any more money of Democrats to pay for them. If they will desecrate the "glorious 4th" with party harangues, let their party supporters furnish the means for the show.

In 1861, and for several years thereafter, the "Radicals" were the only persons in Oregon, who would celebrate the Fourth of July. The "party harangues" referred to consisted of declarations of fidelity to the Union and appeals to the people to save the country from [illegible]. The spicy little Chronicle of San Francisco has some remarks on the subject to which allusion is made by the writer above quoted. The Democrats of that city who wouldn't celebrate the national anniversary during the rebellion, now have an impression that there is some political capital in the Fourth, and are trying to capture it and run it exclusively for party advantage; while the Union men who were alone in celebrating the anniversary during the "dark days" think they still have some property in it, and that it has something to do with ideas of human liberty, inalienable rights, political equality, and all that. The Chronicle proposes to settle the controversy in this way:

> Now, as we prefer peace to war, we would suggest a compromise which, if adopted, ought to be satisfactory to both parties; a compromise based upon the same fair and impartial feelings by which Judge Barnett was inspired when he decided the Archy case, giving the "law to the North, and the nigger to the South." We suggest that there be two orators, two poets, and two chaplains appointed for the occasion. Let one orator deliver an oration of the old fashioned, spread-eagle style, and the other perorate on States rights the wickedness of coercion, and the wrongs of the Confederacy. Let one of the poets furnish a patriotic lyric full of "Hail Columbia" and "Yankee Doodle," while the other shall produce some inspirational stanzas in glorification of the "lost cause." Then the Radical chaplain (the Rev. Mr. Cox, or some other "blood-hound of Zion") will "deliver" an abolition prayer, after which the secesh chaplain (the Rev. O. P. Fitzgerald, or some other bright and shining light of the Methodist Church South) will address his petitions to the pro-slavery God who frowns upon all humanitarian fanaticism, and approves of the peculiar institution and its picturesque incidents and surroundings. The eternal fitness of things will also require that one half of the stage be decorated with the star spangled banner, portraits of Lincoln, Grant, Sherman, Beecher, Star King, etc., while the other half shall be adorned with the bonnie blue flag, and pictorial devices representing whipping posts, auction blocks, blood hounds, etc., together with portraits of Wirz, Booth, Forest, Vallandigham, Brick Pomeroy, and other martyrs, heroes and apostles of the lost cause.
> We hope the committee of two hundred and two will give these modest suggestions of ours their thoughtful consideration, and go to work in a spirit of kindness and mutual concession, to get us up a "compromise Fourth of July."

BARNES.—W. H. L. Barnes of San Francisco, who cavorted over to the Democracy on the night of his partner's (Casserly) nomination for Senator, has returned again to the fold. At the alumni meeting the other day, he said, referring to this matter:

> "As to his own feelings in regard to the little incident at Sacramento, where he got things mixed, it reminded him of a man who lost his wife—or some other near relation—and felt pretty bad about it, as a man ought to feel. A friend condoling with him, said he felt bad to see the mourner feel so sad. 'Why,' said the bereaved husband, 'where did you see me?' 'At the house,' was the reply. 'Thunder!' rejoined the husband, 'you don't know anything about how bad I felt. You ought to have seen me at the grave!'"

The "organ" in making an attack upon the present officers of this county exclaims: "For a more miserable sample of jobbery and corruption commend us!" No doubt the writer in the "organ" is the very person to be commended for any required case of jobbery and corruption. And he offers himself so very cheap. The incoming county officers may have need of him. He can do anything from making up fraudulent election returns to swindling a State out of School Lands. Wisconsin references given.

La Grande papers state that the number of Indians who lately surrendered themselves to Gen. Crook is 72. They delivered up their arms and about 100 head of stolen horses.

The Indian Office has received a dispatch from Alexandria today stating that the steamship Urgent left for England with General Napier and staff and Prince Alfred. The rear guard of the Abyssinian expedition had reached Alexandria.

LONDON, June 22.—Dispatches from Belgrade announce that on Saturday last Prince Milan IV was publicly proclaimed to the militia forces assembled on the Esplanade of the fortress as ruler of Servia. In his proclamation the Governor returns thanks to army and militia for loyalty and good conduct, and exhorts them to be firm in their support of the Prince.

A meeting is called by the liberals to-night at Guildhall, to consider the Irish Church question. The hall is crowded. The Lord Mayor presided, but it soon became evident that a majority of those present were tories. As soon as the proceedings commenced, a great disturbance was created. Mingling cheers and hisses rendered the voices of the speakers on the platform inaudible to all except the reporters. Lubbock moved the first resolution, declaring that the Irish Church should cease to exist; opposing any amendment of the suspensory bill, now pending in the House of Lords. A general uproar followed the reading of this resolve, and fights took place in various parts of the hall. The disturbance threatened to become serious. At this juncture the Lord Mayor retired from the chair, and a number of other gentlemen on the platform left the hall. The tories then rushed upon the platform and held it for a short time. They addressed the audience in an excited manner, declaring the bulk of the English people were opposed to the suspensory bill. After comparative quiet had been restored, speeches were made in support of the bill by several members of Parliament. They were repeatedly interrupted, and were unable to proceed with the reading of the resolves. The meeting ended in disorder, without taking any vote on the resolves.

OSTEND, June 22.—The review of the U. S. fleet, under Admiral Farragut, took place this afternoon, though the weather was overcast. Several showers fell during the day. The harbor was crowded with crafts of every description, filled with sightseers. The shore was lined for miles around with spectators. The American vessels were decked with a profusion of bunting. All the shipping in the harbor was gaily decorated with flags. The Queen of Belgium, who was accompanied by a brilliant retinue of the principal officers of the Government and notables of the Kingdom, passed the fleet in review. The scene was very fine. All the batteries of the fleet burst forth in a general salute. The seamen who manned the yards cheered with great enthusiasm. The salutes were returned from the fortifications and the Belgium men-of-war. The cheers were taken up and repeated by the crowds in the boats and on the shore. The King and Queen were highly gratified at the display. Admiral Farragut has every reason to be satisfied with the success of the review.

LONDON, June 22—Midnight.—In the House of Commons to-night, Lord Stanley expressed agreement in general terms with the recommendations of the Irish Reform commission, but said he would not be married to or enter upon any legislation upon this subject during the present session of Parliament.

Irish political reform was agreed upon to-night by the House Committee. The bill was read the third time.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—The losses by fire yesterday evening are as follows: C. W. Thomas, planing Mill, about $20,000; Hardinburgh & Co., $800; Breyfogle & Warren, $10,000; Armes & Dallam, $6,000; Smith & Davis, $2,500. Most of these losses, with the exception of Breyfogle & Warren, are covered by insurance.

The bodies found at Goat Island have been identified as those of Wm. Bannister, sailor, and Jas. Riley, shoemaker.

The barkentine W. W. Gowley, was towed on to Rincon Rock last night by the steam tug Lookout, while going from one wharf to another. She was light and will probably be got off without much damage. There was a heavy shower of rain in this city last evening and a still heavier one this morning.

STATE ITEMS.

The Methodists are erecting a church building at La Grande.

Umatilla county will celebrate the Fourth of July at Swift's Station.

R. M. Thompson, Postmaster at Corvallis, has forwarded his resignation to the Department at Washington.

A team ran away at Umatilla last week, throwing two ladies out of a buggy and seriously injuring them.

The last run of rock from Ballow lead, near Jacksonville, yielded $11 56 per ton. There is plenty of rock in sight, and the indications are that it will increase in richness.

Two large bands of sheep, containing hundreds of old and young, and some goats also, passed through Salem on Sunday, bound over the mountains for Eastern Oregon.

The Signal says not long since a son of Perry Watson, of Independence, a lad 15 years old, was assaulted with a club by a young man named Shepherd, breaking the boy's arm and otherwise injuring him severely.

Advices from Eagle Creek state that the Humboldt company are in high glee over their prospects. They have just made a partial cleaning up after a two week's run, and took out $1,100. The ledge upon which they are working, (the Gem) has increased in width two-thirds, and very much in richness. The La Grande Gold & Silver mining Company are working on the same ledge.

The Record says: We are told that the contractors of the O. C. R. R. Co. intend to soon put hands to grading on French Prairie, so as to grade that part of the road before the ground becomes difficult to work. The route through the timber can be graded at any season. We hear of some very liberal subscriptions to the enterprise being made in this city.

A heavy storm passed over Umatilla county a few days ago. The Press says that on Birch creek it entirely destroyed the crops of many of the farmers, tearing up the young vegetation by the roots, and what it failed to devastate in that manner it totally destroyed by a heavy shower of hail, which fell to the depth of from two to four inches in various localities.

The Sentinel learns that about 2,000 acres of land has been fenced in at the Klamath Indian Agency. About 140 acres was sown in wheat and oats this spring, and it is said the crops look splendid. Settlers are flocking into the Klamath Basin from every direction, and parties are about taking out the machinery for a saw mill from this valley—the mill to be located at the Falls of Link river.

The Sentinel says that Capt. Sprague, who had wandered from camp during a fit of temporary insanity, has been found. He had been driving out a large band of sheep to Link river, and when near "Brown's," was attacked with fever, which probably unsettled his mind for a short time. He was found at Stearn's in so exhausted a condition that he was unable to sit on his horse, but is now recovered and well.

The Record says that while some men were blasting rock near the upper mill at Salem on Friday, Thomas Irons was injured by a premature discharge which took place while he was tamping the charge. The fuse was most probably cut, and the weather being excessively warm, the heated rock, with the concussion, caused the explosion. One eye was badly injured and the inside of the hand torn away by the tamping rod. The wounds are very bad but not dangerous.

The La Grande Times says the contract taken last fall by Geo. Coggan, of this place, to deliver a 20-stamp quartz mill, weighing 145,000 pounds, at South Boise, is in a fair way of being completed. It has been brought in parcels, at his own convenience from Umatilla, and yesterday started for its destination, and is allowed by the contract till the 5th of August to reach it. It is an immense concern, requiring 16 of the largest sized freight wagons for its transportation. It is owned by a company of English capitalists, called the "Lucy Phillips," and is bound for Yuba, South Boise.

THE BEST CURE FOR RHEUMATISM is to wear good Undershirts, good Cassimere Suits, and should it be warm, change your heavy clothes for such as suit the weather. Follow that prescription, and you will never suffer with rheumatism, but be certain to buy your clothes of KOHN & FISHEL, for their's are known to cure either cold or heat, and to suit both rich and poor.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.—The following is the Grand Jury s report

To the Hon. Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Multnomah —We the Grand Jury for the county aforesaid respectfully report that we have examined into all the offences brought to our notice and have found eight true bills of indictment and presented the same in open court and have endorsed two not true bills, and returned them into court

We have examined the County Jail and find it secure for the confinement of offenders, in good condition, and well kept.

We have also inspected the City Jail and of that can not make so favorable report The City Jail is not sufficiently secure for use at all it is damp, leaky very unhealthy and poorly ventilated The yard adjoining it is at present used by the city authorities as a dog pen which does not add anything to the cleanliness of the jail, and we would suggest that the city lot could be better used for a better purpose than for the construction of a new city jail and hall

We also visited the Insane Asylum of Drs. Hawthorne & Loryea in this county in which there are at this time sixty six male and twenty female patients We were highly satisfied with the appearance of the Asylum, and consider it a credit to the proprietors

There are in the County Hospital eighteen male and four patients They are well cared for, except that the female poor are confined with the female insane With this exception, we are constrained to make a favorable report of the whole institution P HOGAN
Foreman of the Grand Jury

A SUMMER SHOWER —Yesterday afternoon a tremendous rain storm set in about half past three o clock and for about half an hour it was easy indeed to believe that the "heavens" were opened The water seemed almost literally to descend in sheets. The streets were everywhere flooded, house-tops, ditto everywhere else ditto Water pipes choked up and bursted and nearly every wall was the ledge of a cascade We heard several of the old inhabitants declare that they had never seen the like in Oregon, during a summer month The effect of the [illegible] of water works and waterfalls was greatly [illegible] by a fierce wind which blew during the greater part of the shower but the actual fall of rain was not so great as during a rain storm which occurred in August, 1861. The shower [illegible] by wind, began within a few minutes after the cloud first darkened a bright, sunshiny day, and continuing only about fifteen or twenty minutes, actually flooded the house tops so that water ran over some of the fire walls.

SALEM [illegible] MACHINE SHOP —The Messrs. Smith who formerly had the old shop at the corner of Alder and Second streets have now been for some time occupying a much larger and more convenient building on First street Salem They have at present a machine shop proper, a smith s shop and a foundry—all of fair proportions. The proprietors are rather modest in their pretensions as compared with some of the mammoth establishments, but they are doing a great deal of work and in as good style as any done on the coast In certain sorts of jobs they have the reputation of rather laying over the most of the other shops At present they are getting up new mill machinery for two mills, with another order They are the only founders we believe, in the city or State, engaged in the manufacture of fancy iron railings and fencing They intend before long to do something in the way of casting parlor and office stoves We have seen no handsomer castings from any shop than are turned out in their foundry

TEMPERANCE CELEBRATION —The programme for the Good Templars' celebration at East Portland has been decided upon. The procession will form at East Portland at 10 o'clock A M, near the ferry landing and will march to the Spring on the farm of Mr James Stephens. The exercises will be opened with prayer by Rev C C Stratton followed by the reading of the Declaration of Independence, by Mr J N Dolph an address by Mr J F Caples; song, Hail Columbia; [illegible] friends of temperance lunch amusements Mr E D Bonse of East Portland has been selected to act as Marshal of the Day and Mr C C Orich As[illegible] Marshal. A general invitation is extended to all the friends of the temperance cause and the Sabbath schools of Portland and adjacent towns, to participate in the celebration

DEATH OF A CHIEF —News has been received that one of the [illegible] chiefs who lately passed through this city, [illegible] Washington, in company of Mr James [illegible] recently died at Washington City The [illegible] of the 20th says "Mr Lott Wiggin, [illegible] a letter from Dr Newell, who accompanied the delegation to Washington, [illegible] the death of one of the chiefs, [illegible] He was buried in the C[illegible] by his brother chiefs [illegible] in his tribe, [illegible] funeral [illegible] the grave. IDAHO DEMOCRACY —They have "Democracy" in Idaho Territory in its unadulterated state On the meeting of their Territorial Convention a few days ago an uproar ensued which lasted for some time and which Street the Chairman settled at last by this elegant speech

Gentlemen of the convention this is a convention met here for a definite object which has been stated in your hearing, and it is your first duty to organize and proceed to business But instead of organizing and proceeding to business like sensible men and as Democrats should you have met here and consumed your time in quarreling, and acted like damned fools Now what is the use of it? An hour has been consumed in that manner and I now recommend that you proceed to business

The "organ" continues to grieve most piteously because the County Commissioners have purchased a farm for the maintenance of the county poor The principal cause of its distress is that one of the Directors of that paper who, for a long time has kept the wards of the county at prices very satisfactory to himself is likely to lose a good thing We have thought it necessary to mention this so that the situation may be understood and that the "organ" may obtain sympathy in its profound distress

THE FOURTH OF JULY HAT suitable for warm weather, will be introduced to day Saturday June 20th at J C Meussdorffer & Bros This Hat is manufactured entirely by our firm in this city It is light tidy and airy and price very reasonable Call and examine.

Whittier to Colfax

Colfax!—well chosen to preside
O'er Freedom's Congress, and to guide,
As one who holds the reins of fate,
The current of its great debate;
Prompted by one too wise and good,
And fair, withal, to be withstood,
Here, from our Northern river banks,
I send to thee my hearty thanks
For all the patience which has borne
The weary toot of Bunkum's horn,
The hissing of the Copperhead,
And Folly dropping words of lead!
Still wisely ready when the scale
Hangs poised to make the right prevail,
Still foremost, though Secession's head
Be crushed, with scornful heel to tread
The life out from its writhing tail!
As wise, firm, faithful to the end
God keep thee, prays thy sincere friend,
—John G. Whittier.

Nasby at the Chicago Convention.

A LECTURE ON DEMOCRACY.

POST OFFIS, CONFEDRIT X ROADS,
(Wich is in the State of Kentucky,)
May 24, 1868.

I wuz at Chicago one day, and that one day satisfied me. My ears wuz stunned with 'rors for Grant; whichever way I turned I saw nothing but Grant badges and Grant medals; the bands wuz all playin the Star Spangled Banner and sich and even the street organ grinders hed attooned their lyres to the same Ablishen melodies.

On my arrival I askt a vishus boy (wich I knowd wuz Dimekratic, from the fact that his little shirt wood hev hung out uv his little pants of he'd hed any shirt) of he cood show me where the Ablishen Convenshun wuz a holdin itself.

"Certinly I kin, my old buffer," sed he. "It's in that yere bildin," pintin, ez he spok, to a rather gorgus edefis with a steeple to it.

I entered it, and wuz surprised, not only by the fewness uv the delegates on the floor, but at their pecoolyer appearance. They didn't look like delegates to any convenshun I hed ever attended. Their noses wuzn't uv the color I hed ben acustomed to. They wuz all solemn lookin chaps with gold spectacles, black coats, high foreheads and white neckerchers. "Is this," thot I to myself, "the uniform delegates wear to Republikin convenshuns?"

At this pint I turned to a man sitting beside me, and in an undertone askt wich wuz ahead on the last ballot, Colfax or Wade?

"Sir," sed he, "are yoo a Johnson Postmaster?"

"I am," sed I, defiantly. "How didst determine that pint?"

"By your b[illegible] th," sed he. "Your mistaken in the place, my friend. This is a Methodist Conference."

That wikked and [illegible] boy hed intenshunly deceived me.

Unable to obtain [illegible] into the Opera House, I whiled away the day [illegible] the delegashun rooms. The [illegible] offered me water when I [illegible]. The Ohio de'[illegible] [illegible] sed me to dust, and the [illegible] ez wich i expected better [illegible] to offer me wine! [illegible] carry [illegible] sich a stumick ez mine! [illegible] And the man that did it hed bin in Californy [illegible] !

Disgusted at the thinness of the beverages, I retired into a friendly hostlery kept by Dennis O'Shoughnessy, and at his hospitable bar selaced myself with three fingers of Kentuky sustenance.

There wuz no enthoosiasm among the citizens uv Chicago which I naterally fell among. The saloon keepers wich in remembrance uv the Dimecratic Convenshun of 1864 hed made extra preparashuns, wuz gloomy, sad and disappointed. These places, garnisht for the occashun, wuz sad and lonely. There wuz an entire absence of that gentle gurgle wich to my ears so plessin, there wuz no genial noses and faces lighted up with the radiance born uv the batl wich I am so accustomed to. No, Chicago wuz no place for me.

Its the last Republican Convenshun I shall ever attend. The idea of a confrence sittin in the [illegible] a city with a conv[illegible]shun! The idea of minglin politi[illegible] religion! Will there be confrences in Noo York in Jooly? Methinks not, unless, indeed, my church shood decide to hold one.

[illegible]

Don't [illegible] reahly. It ain't improbable we may [illegible] other subjec. In that event [illegible] but I'm still onin.

"[illegible]" "It's a humiliatin thing to hev throwd in our faces a [illegible] to pay a [illegible] debt in a [illegible] to pay a debt unconstitooshnally inker[illegible]

"Deakin," sed I, "your zeel I do admire, but your [illegible] It may be found necessary in [illegible] New York to nominate Belmont's men, [illegible] in this very [illegible] a little slow."

"[illegible] it's a burnin shame to throw into Kentucky's face a Ablishnist —[illegible] fact—and—"

"[illegible] time [illegible] your very [illegible]. It's possible, and I may say [illegible] Cheef Justis C[illegible] who hez bin a faithful Ablishnist, and who, ef he runs, will, for obvus reasons, make us swaller [illegible] may be our candidate. Say nothin, Deakin, that yoo'l hev to take back."

[illegible] that rite here wuz a splendid chance for an improvement [illegible] aims ez [illegible]

"[illegible] is distinguished [illegible] in adaptin means to ends. One [illegible] that Post Offis is its cheef end. In one [illegible] is willin to sacrifice anything [illegible] Post [illegible] It [illegible] cook, on [illegible] candidate [illegible] the [illegible] day [illegible] But [illegible] cess is [illegible] wants, [illegible] the means to [illegible] avoid [illegible] to chalk [illegible] tin, and [illegible] labors, Captain [illegible] tinyoo to [illegible] Revenoo officers with wich he kin divide the profits uv the $2 [illegible] he makes, and Deakin Pogram [illegible] that he may hev his niggers agin, or [illegible] that he may hev the privilege uv hirin em for $4 per month, dedictin 25 cents per day for [illegible] day's [illegible] without no Burow officer or [illegible] military satrap hangin about to molest or make afraid. Succ[illegible] is the main pint, and ef Hancock is the way, walk ye in it; ef Chase or S[illegible] is the way, walk yoo also, for with either of [illegible] men, all these things we'll hev. When [illegible] come to [illegible] they leave their former selves behind.

"But [illegible] I hear one say, Hancock is a soljer, S[illegible] a anti-repudiator, and Chase a Ablishnist! Wat uv that? They may be wat they like when they go into offis associashen with us [illegible] them sooner or later. Kin you tech pitch and not be defiled? Doolittle, Cowan and Dixon wuz Ablishnists. When they split from Ablishnism—the minit they fell into our embrace —they [illegible] satisfactory Demokrats ez I cood wish. The road down is a easy one to travel. It's [illegible] to slide than to climb, which is the [illegible] so many more are damned than saved. Democracy, like Bascom's new likker, holds a man when it gets him. Johnson wuz a good enuff Ablishnist until he called onto us for help, and then he wuz lost. Let Chase stay with us a week and he'd forgit all his old ideas, yoo bet. Shood you poke that silver pitcher at him the niggers give him at Cincinnati for defendin a fugitive, and he'd swear like Peter he never saw it—only differin from Peter in that he'd stick to it. And there is no goin back for the principal ones. Their remorse kind o' drives em deeper and deeper, till they finally are worse than ez tho they originally wuz ov us. Let us, my brethrin, never reject any help we kin git. Let it come in any shape and from any source, it will finally assimilate to us and be uv us. Remember Johnson, Cowan, Doolittle and Dixon swore, when they started at Philadelphia, that they never cood go into the ranks uv the Dimocrisy; in a year they wuz a makin speeches for us in Connecticut."

Ez I concluded my remarks, my circle all agreed that it wuz safe to take whatever we cood git from the enemy, and we retired, I feelin that whatever other localities mite do, the Corners wuz safe. Wat an outrage it is, though, that the Ablishnists nominated sich a man for Vice President ez to make Grant perfectly safe from bein removed ez Linken was. Ef he's elected he'll serve out his time sure.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY, P. M.
(Wich is Postmaster.)

Pendleton's friends claim for him in the National Convention 128 votes, from these States: Oregon, California, Nevada, Kansas Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, New Hampshire, Maine.

James Buchanan.

The following is from the Chicago Tribune's article on the death of James Buchanan:

Had he died before he became President, he might have borne a place in American history as one who had held honorable offices, and had mingled in debates and in scenes with the great men of the century. But he was preserved that he might render the Presidential office the tool and instrument of armed rebels. He had pledged himself, that if slavery would make him President, he would do its bidding. The time came for the redemption of the pledge, and the old man found consolation for his treachery in the boast that he would be the last President of an unbroken Union. But a just Providence held him up long enough to see the Union triumph over the rebellion that grew under his hand. He lived long enough to see the flag that he had betrayed floating once more over every inch of American soil, and his own name mentioned only in the accents of hatred and derision.

This desolate old man has gone to his grave. Fortunately, he is the last of his race. No son or daughter is doomed to acknowledge an ancestry from him. If he had died soon after he left the Presidential office, it is most likely that Pennsylvania would have denied him a resting place in her soil. The lapse of time has been favorable to him in this respect. Give him a little earth for charity.

BONNER IN TROUBLE.—Bonner has a country place at Morrisania, and his forte continues to be advertising, as the following will show:

"Now I offer for sale a curiosity, something rare; the precise, exact spot where the fever and ague is. I will warrant it to be there. Three of my children have it, my gardener has it, my groom has the sure preliminary symptoms, and I have a sufficient inkling of it myself. Any doctor, with a large family, who has a specific for fever and ague, would find this a most eligible situation; the neighborhood is full of the disease, and if he could keep out of his own family it would give him a reputation which would insure his fortune. The trees afford not only a delightful shade, but a nice harbor for musquitoes. The musquitoes thus far have not been so much affected by the fever and ague as to prevent their biting. In fact, it is a good place for musquitoes. I bought it to please my wife, and shall leave it to please my whole family. Terms—cash. I am afraid any security on it would get the fever and ague, and become shaky. Those wishing to purchase will please apply immediately. I want to get away from it as fast as Dexter can carry me."

(Signed) "ROBERT BONNER."

A RATHER DELICATE SUGGESTION.—The Frankfort (Ky) Commonwealth commends to the Legislature of that State that feature of the Ohio Visible Admixture Law, which provides that voters suspected of having African blood shall be questioned as to the color of their parents. It thinks that if such a measure were adopted in Kentucky there would be an opportunity of bringing home to a portion of the inhabitants proof of actual negro equality and social hybridization and amalgamation, which would be astounding.

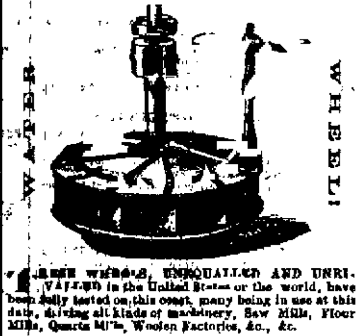
AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE



THESE WHEELS, UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, many being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c., &c.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern: I hereby give notice that the so-called "Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel" is a direct infringement and copy of the "James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel," and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Parties interested will take notice, for I shall prosecute said infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say, and am not playing "bluff," I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17, 1868.

"MR. A. MYERS: In accordance with your request, we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels, and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel's patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does, and in this he clearly infringes. The fact that Shipley has [illegible] another series of buckets in addition as those used by Leffel, does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all. He has no right to use these two tier of buckets, whether alone or with a third, or any other number of tiers added. It is a clear infringement. Respectfully yours,

DODGE & MUNN.

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement of our Patents, whether it is the maker, user, buyer or seller. Every infringement, whether our claims are used in whole or in part, will be prosecuted.

A. MYERS.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

IT CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

E. B. MOORE,	NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE,	G. R. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY,	JOHN M. HOLLOWAY,
W. D. PORTER,	ROBT. RAMSEY,

And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern:—One A. Myers is publishing and circulating a statement that my wheel is an infringement on the Leffel wheel, and he will "prosecute said infringement to the utmost extent of the Law." His statements are not worth a denial. His game is "BLUFF," which, if he would only take the case to Court, would soon be played out. Don't believe him!

I would be glad to get a case into the United States Court and get a decision. That would forever stop the mouth of Myers and his misrepresentations. The legal opinions of more reputable lawyers than Dodge & Munn and A. Myers have pronounced my patents no infringement on the American Turbine. H. W. SHIPLEY.

Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system: Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

[illegible] the consequence of self [illegible]. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their [illegible] makers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian
